Foreword

Center of College Life: THE PEOPLE

Middle Tennessee State College is made up of a number of things . . . There are typewriters and tennis courts, buildings and biology classes, "dolls" and dorms, records and rooms equipped for a multitude of specialized tasks.

But most of all, there are people—students and professors, administrators and caretakers. These are the people who make the real MTSC.

And so it is that people are the media through which we tell the story of Middle Tennessee State College, 1955.

CAMPUS ENTRANCE STARTS A LONG REVERIE!

RETROSPECT, 1955

The wind was blowing . . . It was a cold and dreary March day. As I entered the drive, on this March day, 1955, I began to think . . .

I began to think about the place I had called home for almost four years. It was going to seem strange not returning next quarter. Somehow, it wasn't right . . .

I remembered the way the campus had looked when I first set foot on it—that sunny September, 1951.

I thought of all the additions my four years at MTSC had brought . . . The Student Union Building, Monohan Hall, the Natatorium, the ROTC building . . . Yes, my home for the past four years had changed.

Then, I remembered the past school year. I remembered the highlights of the year . . . I remembered MTSC in 1955 . . . A memory that will remain vivid in the hearts of all that passed through the portals of our Alma Mater.

I remembered . . . the 1955 MIDLANDER will refresh your memory.

ALMA MATER

Hail, TSC, all hail
Noble and strong;
To thee with one accord
We raise our song.

Swelling to heaven's height,
Our praises ring;
Hail, TSC, all hail,
To thee we sing!

But, more than a building or group of buildings, MTSC is a meeting place for the minds of those who wish to learn and be taught the wonders of an ever-changing world. It is a campus where we live, work, play, and study.

THIS IS OUR CAMPUS . . .

...Where we live

...Where we study

...Where we work

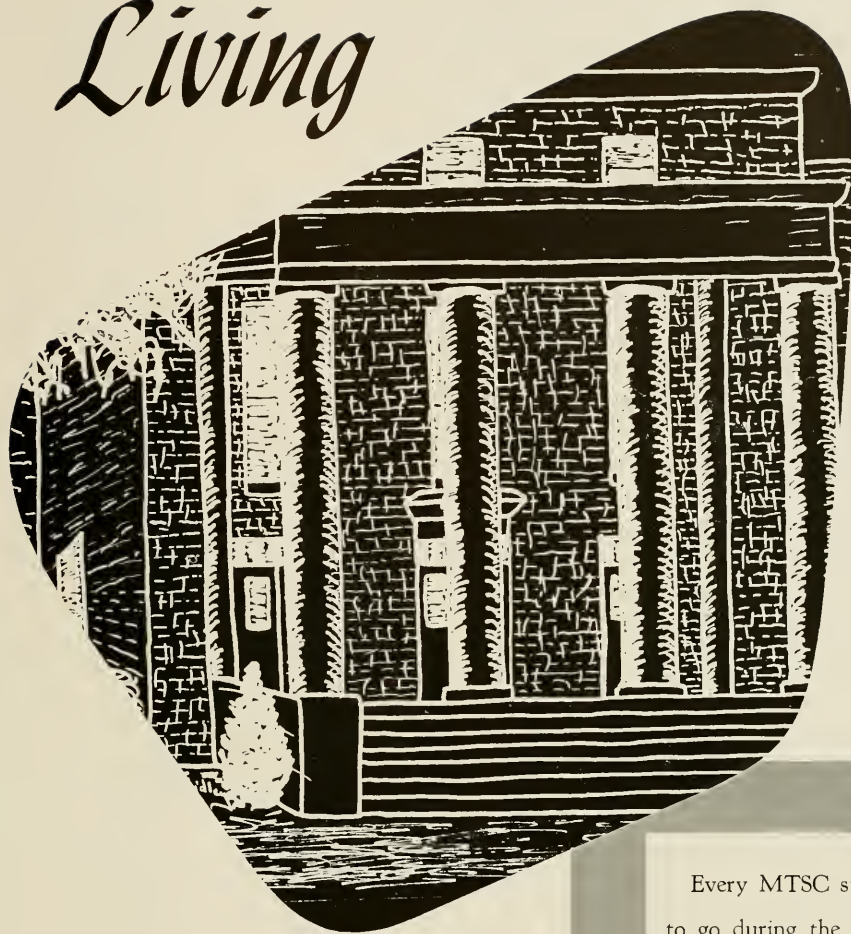

...Where we play

Living

Every MTSC student finds a place to go during the time lapse between dinner and breakfast. This place he calls home—and it is here he lives. It is here he performs a multitude of tasks, some pleasant, some not so pleasant. No matter what the living abode of the student, it's always a good place to be at the end of the day.

WOMEN'S HOUSING

FOR THE FEMALE:
A "HOMEY" ATMOSPHERE

These are the buildings which serve as the temporary homes for the co-eds. Behind the imposing walls of the three-story brick buildings, girls can find and create a feeling of belonging, companionship, and security.

Monohan Hall, an imposing brick building of three stories, was completed in the spring of 1954. This dormitory has the capacity to house and provide adequately for approximately 200 girls. Much to the delight and gratifying pleasure of the co-ed upper-classwomen the dormitory is designated as a dwelling for Junior and Senior girls. With all modern conveniences and facilities, Monohan can hardly be surpassed. A co-ed can easily relax on the sun deck or apply herself diligently to her studies in the study room after a long day of classes. Here the "other half" visit at "open house."

MEN'S HOUSING

FOR THE MALE—AN EXPANSIVE
HOME AND A KNACK FOR CASUALNESS.

The male population of MTSC resides either in the dormitories, Vet Village, private homes—or he may be a traveling man.

The brick-housing units, Smith and Jones Halls, constitute the residence of the majority of male students. Smith Hall, a modern structure completed in 1951, accommodates 200 men. Complete with recreation rooms, TV and a kitchenette for the domestically-minded male,

Smith is a center of diversified activity.

Jones Hall, an old familiar campus landmark to old grads, was named for R. L.
Jones, the first president of the institution. Here a group of Jones Hall boys gather with the intention of proving to the photographer that they, as well as the fair sex, can be truly photogenic.

THE STUDENT UNION BUILDING

WHERE WE GREET OUR FRIENDS

Students—short students, tall students, fat students, skinny students, “brainy” students, “carefree” students—all gather as one body and one spirit held together by the ties of congeniality and friendship.

Students in the Tennessee Room “trip the light fantastic” to the soft, sentimental strains of a band or orchestra. Students in the recreation room get “hep to the jive” with their own original interpretation of music appreciation to the beat of “Shake, Rattle and Roll.” Students, tense under the strain of a close game of ping-pong or checkers are seriously gathered about tables. Students in the Lunch Room swap jokes and secret information over steaming cups of coffee.

This is our Student Union Building—the center of student activity.

THE CAFETERIA

WHERE WE EAT OUR MEALS

The college cafeteria, which is located in the Student Union Building, adequately provides sustenance for the army of MTSC students. Serving three meals a day, the cafeteria operates efficiently under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, and Mrs. Irene Robinson. Again, students enter the picture of participation by composing the entire serving staff.

The dining section is a spacious room that sufficiently accommodates the students during a rush hour.

The faculty table, which offers the administrators, teachers, and house mothers a temporary haven from the students, is located in one corner of the cafeteria.

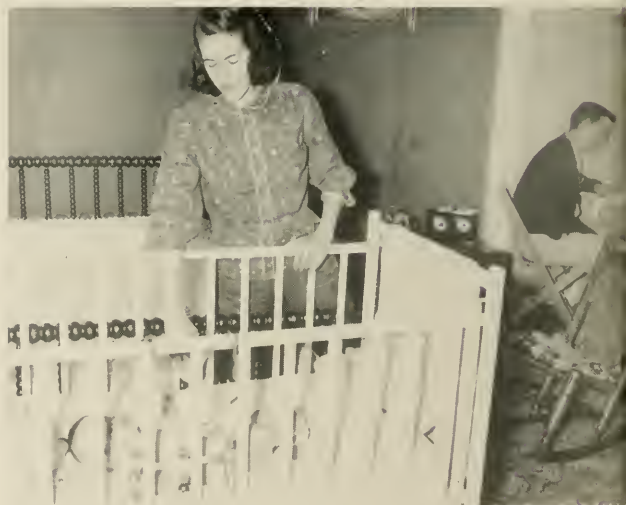

VET VILLAGE

THE "LITTLE MTSC CITY"

A small, neat village of frame apartments and trailers is located immediately East of the main campus. This village houses the families of veterans and married students.

Quite a little community of its own, Vet Village, in addition to the apartments, has a community grocery for the convenience of the housewife and a recreation hall which provides a social center.

THE COMMUTERS

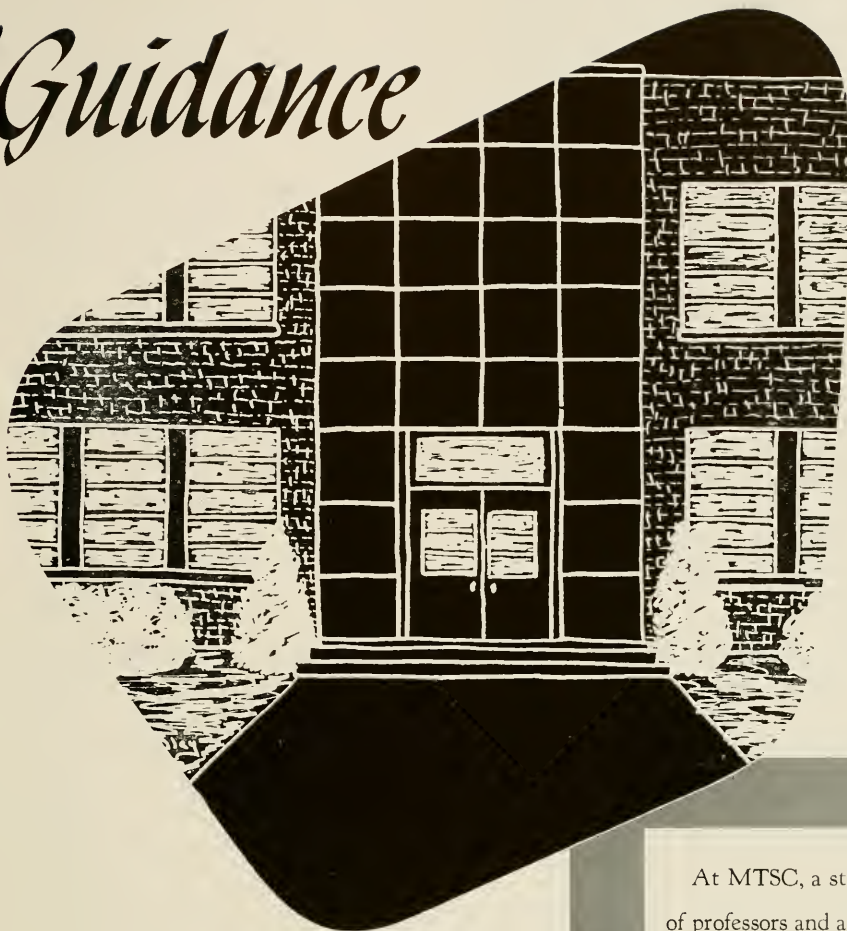

THEY COME, STUDY, GO!

The commuter's day is quite different from a regular student's day. A student who commutes arrives early on the campus and prepares himself for a busy day of classes. Between these classes he may grab a cup of coffee or if he has free hours, he often makes them count by utilizing this time at the library. At the end of day, he is homeward bound along with many other fellow commuters.

Our Guidance

At MTSC, a student runs into a lot of professors and administrators regardless what majors and minors he may have picked for his career. Some meetings are pleasant, some are not! Sometimes he is inspired; sometimes he isn't. But all meetings tend to help create a masterpiece called "the intelligent individual."

PRESIDENT Q. M. SMITH,

whose military composure is the product of service as an officer in both the Navy and Army, is an alumnus of MTSC. He was the first editor of a student publication, first head of a campus debating society, president of the first graduating class and a member of the first football team. Thus, steeped in the tradition of the college, and with more than a quarter of a century of college administrative experience behind him—he has made MTSC a recognized educational power. Since he returned to his Alma Mater in 1938, the college has enjoyed a phenomenal growth in enrollment, physical plant and prestige. With him here is the charming hostess of the president's home and their two children, Nancy and Bill.

who has been described by a nationally known political writer as "the Democratic party's answer to the Vice-Presidency in 1956," has proved in the past two years, as the nation's youngest chief executive, that he was a good friend of education. This year he has started his second term and is the State's first four-year term Governor. Interested in a balanced program of progress for the State, Governor Clement has courageously met the challenge of the expanding classroom needs for all levels of education.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Middle Tennessee State College operates under the supervision of the State Board of Education of which the Governor and Commissioner of Education are members.

LEFT TO RIGHT, SEATED: Chester L. Parham, Jackson; Miss Maud Holman, Executive Secretary of the Board; W. R. Landrum, Trenton; Mrs. Ferdinand Powell, Johnson City; Edward L. Jennings, Liberty. STANDING: Robert Patton Williams, Chattanooga; Sam Wilson, Loudon; Dr. William R. Webb, Miss Mary McCrady, Assistant Secretary; Dr. Quill Cope, Commissioner of Education, Chairman, and Dr. Norman Frost.

Dr. Cope is a frequent visitor to the campus as a speaker and consultant for various education groups. Last year the Board held the winter meeting on the campus.

ADMINISTRATIVE

There is a big triumvirate in the college—the deans.

“Dean of deans” is energetic N. C. BEASLEY who has served with the college “top brass” since 1926. At various times he has combined the functions of dean-registrar, dean of students, and dean of instruction—yet he has found time to become a leader in state and national educational organizations and a nationally recognized lay leader in the Methodist church. Currently, as dean of admissions he supervises the staff that handles entrance, service record status, recommendations, and reports of students and alumni.

Days of work as consultant at educational meetings, hours of speaking engagements fill the schedule of DR. HOWARD KIRKSEY with “extra-dean” work and “extra-class” work. As a high school principal, regional supervisor of secondary education, and head of the Graduate division at MTSC Dr. Kirksey made significant contributions to education before becoming our Dean of Instruction. Through his office pass the complicated consultations on student schedules and the co-ordination of curriculum planning.

As dignified as a bank president, as commiserate as a house mother, DR. S. BELT KEATHLEY has the difficult task of imposing discipline that will be constructive and yet permit a maximum enjoyment of wholesome campus life. Sympathetically just, aptly describes our Dean of Students who has a brilliant background of successful work as a high school administrator, State Department of Education staff member and college teacher.

ASSISTANTS

Completing the staff of administrative assistants are these experienced specialists in their fields.

T. B. WOODMORE, college bursar, pictured here with his assistant, Jimmy Jackson, finds the enlarging student body, the expanding campus activities, and the extension of MTSC services an increasingly complex financial problem. Author of a book on college financial administration, his business trained fingers smooth away economic difficulties with such ease that a student self-help check or chemistry breakage refunds are always right on time in the exact amount.

Jolly director of extension ROBERT ABERNATHY knows more young people, has told more jokes, made more after dinner speeches and organized more extension classes than anyone in the history of the college. In addition to these duties he is secretary of the MTSC Alumni Association. His broad experience as an educator and his friendly extroversion make him the college ambassador of good will while leaving him a sympathetic and loyal friend to the individual.

Former high school teacher and school administrator GENE H. SLOAN is also a member of the Tennessee bar and an experienced newspaper man. As faculty athletic chairman, director of student publications, contact man with high school seniors or class room teacher, Sloan fills well the "busiest man on the campus" description. If your name appeared in the home town paper this year, Sloan or one of his assistants like Peggy Jennings (pictured here) probably put it there.

HOUSE MOTHERS

Preserving harmony among, and finding places for the accommodation of the increasing population of MTSC is but one of the tasks of these "house mothers." Charming, understanding—yet calm and firm may describe these women who assume the difficult task of meeting the emergencies of a semi-communal living in a democratic society without autocratic pressures. House mothers pictured are: First row—Mrs. Mattie Lou Parks, Rutledge Hall, Mrs. Evelyn Felder, Director of Dormitories and Hostess of Student Union Building, Mrs. Myrtle Sullivan, Monohan Hall, Mrs. Josephene Patterson, Lyon Hall. Second row—Mrs. John Bass, Director of Recreation, Mrs. Charles Greer, Jones Hall, Mrs. Billie Mac Jones, Smith Hall.

AND THE SECRETARIES

KEEP THINGS IN WORKING ORDER

A glimpse into the scenes of the smoothly and efficiently operated MTSC offices shows those who combine patience, skill and responsibility in order to perform adequately their jobs. Members of the highly capable secretarial staff pictured are: Standing—Mrs. Norene Hudgens, Mrs. Evelyn Turney, Mrs. Carolyn Holloway, Mrs. Jane Warner, Virginia Mason Elrod, and Mrs. Florida Smith. Seated—Mrs. Bonnie McHenry, Mrs. Elizabeth Vaughter, Mrs. Charlotte Heinz, and Mrs. Knox Wright.

THE BOOKSTORE

WHERE WE PURCHASE OUR SUPPLIES!

The Bookstore does not represent truly the name applied to it. Magazines, tooth paste, ink and greeting cards are only a few of the many things students may purchase here to lend convenience to a student's life. The management of the bookstore is under Charles Phillips who is assisted by Gladys Smart. Pictured left to right are Charles Phillips, Ann Blackwood, Gladys Smartt, and Jean Anderson.

WHERE OUR AILMENTS ARE SHORT-LIVED

Aches and pains are short-lived under the competent care of Mrs. Melba Newton, the registered nurse in charge of and at residence in the infirmary. Although very few students are forced to take leave of classes and transfer temporary residence to the infirmary, the facilities here are adequate to furnish one comfort and ease during the days of convalescing. Dr. William Shacklett is the consultant for the student who needs the attention of an M.D.

Here Mrs. Newton takes the temperature of a co-ed Barbara Casey who, no doubt, is very relieved that she is normal.

THE POST OFFICE

WHERE WE RECEIVE OUR MAIL!

Those letters from home which students earnestly await are cheerfully distributed to their boxes by Miss Irene McElroy, the post-mistress. For the easy access of students coming to and from classes, the post office is in the Student Union Building. Pictured are Peggy Garvin and Miss Irene McElroy.

ATHLETIC MANAGEMENT

Hearty, affable Charles "Bubber" Murphy is that rare combination of gentleman, muscle man, and student that can still attain outstanding success as a coach. His handling of men with maturity and experience or his appreciation of the problems of an ambitious but somewhat caloused athlete, make our director of athletics a popular coach, and a successful executive. Pictured are Coach Elbert Patty, athletic business manager, and Coach Charles Murphy.

Broken window, transplanted shrubbery, a fluorescent light failure, a leaky faucet or the layout for a new driveway. You name it and these men execute it. Behind the scenes the men and women shown on this page contribute to our comfort day and night. Neither the elements or the vagaries of humanity keep this corps from their daily tasks.

E. S. Voorhies, director of maintenance, and Floyd Travis his assistant who handles ground maintenance and delivery service, are pictured above.

Standing by his faithful truck is W. C. Hastings, who supervises the heating and electrical system, while working in the maintenance shop is C. L. McBroom, supervisor of janitorial and plumbing service; Raymond Brashear, supervisor of carpentry work, Paul Messick and Clyde O. Vance, supervisor of campus police and watchmen service.

GIRLS' DORM COUNCIL

Composed of class representatives from Rutledge, Lyon, and Monohan Halls, this organization is concerned with the rules and regulations in the dorms. When the girls fail to abide by the dormitory rules, they come to the attention of the council. This group decides their fate, whether it is a reminder, demerits, or a "campus." This method of student discipline works very well, and the Dorm Council have the respect and admiration of all the students. Pictured left to right are: Anita Cook, Jo Ann Redding, Dena Croft, Joyce Cooper, Patricia Wilson, Sue Richardson, Joan Startup.

BOYS' DORM COUNCIL

Jones Hall and Smith Hall each have councils for regulation of the dorm rules. These councils are concerned with problems arising in the individual dorms. When a problem arises that demands further consideration, it comes to the attention of the Inter-Dorm Council, composed of representatives from both Smith and Jones Hall.

OUR SOCIAL EVENTS ARE PLANNED BY THE STUDENT SOCIAL COMMITTEE

A committee that is concerned with the social aspect of the student life is the social committee. This committee, along with the faculty social committee, is concerned primarily with making up the social calendar from quarter to quarter and planning the social events.

President of the Associated Student Body

ROSS SPIELMAN

Ross Spielman, our A.S.B. President, hails from Hagerstown, Maryland, and he is a transfer from Hagerstown Junior College. While here at MTSC, Ross has been very active in campus activities, as indicated by his duties as president this year. He is majoring in physical education, and upon graduation will receive his commission as 2nd lieutenant in the United States Army as a result of his work in the ROTC.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

The A.S.B. proudly spells experience in Democracy

This group of students comprises the leaders in student government. They are officers of the Associated Student Body, an all student organization in which it is possible to seek and bring to light the needs and desires of the students as individuals, as groups and as unified body. It strives to unify interests, opinions, and methods of procedure both within the student body and faculty. The spirit of the Associated Student Body is that of individual responsibility for, and cooperative support of, the ideals that are in harmony with democracy.

OFFICERS

THIS IS THE JUDICIAL BODY CALLED THE
SUPREME COURT

The judicial department of the student government is the Supreme Court. It consists of two Seniors, two Juniors, and one Sophomore who are appointed for a term of one year by the President of the ASB and confirmed by a majority of Congress.

The Supreme Court acts as the final judicial body of the student government. One Senior is appointed as chief justice, with the other four members acting as justices.

OUR OWN ELECTED REPRESENTATIVES—THE A.S.B.
CONGRESS

One branch of the student government that serves as the legislative division is the Student Congress. Congress is composed of thirteen members, elected annually by the classes, four seniors, four juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen. The vice-president of the A.S.B.

serves as non-voting chairman of Congress.

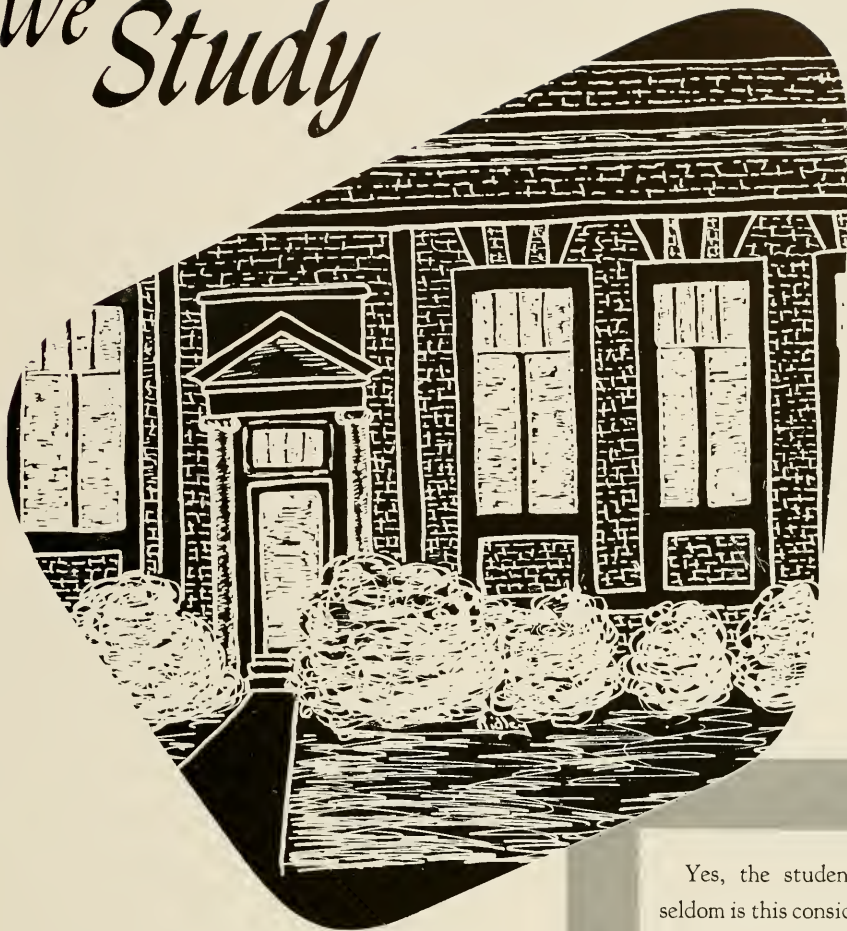

Congress comprises the final law-making body of the student government. Congress may originate laws and make its own laws and by-laws as well as consider recommendations made to them.

As We Study

Yes, the students study also—but seldom is this considered a pleasant task. Although, perhaps, a few have a desire to quench their thirst for knowledge most of the students study because the professors and administrators deem it wise and necessary. But regardless of the reason—all studying tends to make each student more capable and pushes him a little further along the road in attaining his objective in life.

AGRICULTURE

"God Almighty First Planted A Garden"

For nearly three decades after his graduation from MTSC, Dr. Clifford N. Stark became a transplanted Yankee, serving as head of the Cornell University dairying department where he became a nationally recognized authority. Returning to MTSC four years ago, he now supervises a far-reaching program of general agricultural services to this area.

An increasing number of girls are taking courses in agriculture as evidenced by this picture of a classroom scene. Seen lecturing here is B. B. Gracy, Jr., civic leader, skilled agriculturist, friend and adviser of students at MTSC for 30 years.

Conferring in the office of the Agriculture Center adjacent to the 325 acres in the college farm are three men who are not only specialists in distinct branches of agriculture but outstanding in the overall development of the area served by the college. Left to right, James N. Jagers, B. B. Gracy, Jr., and Dr. Clifford Stark.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

"A Well Educated Man Can Work With His Hands"

O. L. Freeman, master craftsman in his own right, directs the department to train men and women in vocational competencies; thus maintaining the philosophy of the college that any well educated person should be able to demonstrate his manual ability in some field. With the burning loyalty of an alumnus of the college, Mr. Freeman's contribution extends from the classroom to deliberate and conservative leadership in athletic committee work after years of successful coaching of Raider teams.

She will like this next to the window in the den. He will beam with pride—for this is his creation. Phillip Dalton, who heads the woodworking shop instructional staff, confers with a student who is preparing a piece of home furniture.

This group of highly trained specialists offer a broad curriculum that prepares students for successful teaching or efficient service in industry. Electricity, arts, crafts, plastics, machine trades, mechanical and decorative art, surveying, woodworking instructional plans are developed around this table by John S. Wade, Miss Carol Harding, O. L. Freeman, Edwin Voorhies, Harold Jewell, James H. Gonce. Phillip Dalton was not present when the picture was made.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

"I Will Buy With You, Sell With You"

"Wink" or "Coach"—nicknames that are holdovers from the days of his cat-like agility as a player and cool finesse as college athletic director are fittingly descriptive characteristics that have made Elwin W. Midgett a successful departmental executive. Dedicating himself to the building of a great business administration curriculum, Midgett is justly proud of the success majors in that department are achieving.

Accuracy and dependability, the twins of successful business enterprise, are stressed here by Hollie Sharpe as he directs a class in one of the modern business machine classrooms.

This quintet of instructors are responsible for the major work in presenting the Business Administration's three-fold program of training designed for those who seek instruction in secretarial science, who want to teach secondary school business subjects or who desire to prepare to be corporation executives or to handle their own businesses. Left to right, Miss Elaine Stepp, Gene H. Sloan, Hollie Sharpe, Mrs. Henrietta Myers Wade, and Elwin W. Midgett.

EDUCATION

"Only The Ignorant Despise Education"

Dr. Wilmouth B. Bowdoin is proving a worthy successor to a long line of distinguished names in Tennessee education that have guided the department charged with the primary function of MTSC—the training of teachers. Enthusiastic about the needs of classroom teachers, Dr. Bowdoin has a perceptive appraisal of "student teachers" that insures the happy transplanting of students to teachers.

Administering 500 freshman tests at registration or supervising remedial reading classes—it is all in the quarter's work for the MTSC education department staff. Leading one of our college tours to Europe or acting as consultants for state educational meets might be the stint of the next quarter.

These twelve educators, all of whom have been successful as classroom teachers and the majority as administrators or State Department of Education leaders, bring a wealth of experience to bear on the training of future educators. Seated, left to right, J. Hubert Swann, N. C. Beasley, Finis W. Poole, Roy Simpson, Dr. Ralph Dunham, Miss Mary Hall, Hilary Parker; standing, James Martin, Dr. Howard Kirksey, Dr. Belt Keathley, Dr. W. B. Bowdoin, and Dr. Bealer Smotherman.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"Good Health and Good Sense . . . Life's Blessings"

Dr. Francis Riel, a transplanted native son of Massachusetts, has brought the rich tradition of a cultural New England background and the savoir faire of professional baseball experience to bear in producing a health and physical educational program at MTSC that does more than train coaches—it develops for each student a wholesome recreational future, even for the physically handicapped.

Central unit in the Health and Physical Education building is this play area, the scene of healthful activity from early morning until late at night. Here is a class in badminton—one of 42 body-building courses offered by the college to suit the interests and abilities of all.

Many teachers "double in brass," but in health and physical education, long hours and big classes are the rule. At the time other teachers call it a classroom day, many of these folks start a second stint as coaches. Left to right, Charles Murphy, head football coach and athletic director; Betty Littlefield, swimming; Buleah Davis, girls' intramural director; Francis Riel, baseball. Standing Joe Black Hayes, football and track; Elbert Patty, golf and swimming; Charles Greer, basketball. Bill Jones, assistant in football and basketball, was absent when the picture was made.

"The Vulgar Boil, The Learned Roast"

Homemaking is the theme around which these two women, planning and directing the Middle Tennessee State College home economics program, center their thinking. Miss Agnes Nelson and Mrs. Virginia Muncie challenge the interest of young women—and an increasing number of young men—to study and understand the business of running a home as the basis of successful futures.

The traditional "cooking classes" at MTSC range from simple teas to laboratory experiences that prepare women for professional work as dieticians or other professions in the preparation and handling of food.

Again the picture seems traditional. Except for the styles and equipment and the personnel, this might have been a "domestic science" class of 20 years ago. Indeed, it is another of the basic courses that hint of the wide range of work offered in home economics in this year of 1955. Before a modern lass moves on, she learns basically to teach in the high schools, to run a nursery school, or be an interior decorator or designer.

LANGUAGES

"Let These Describe The Undescribable"

Dr. Richard Peck, his redolent pipe and his curly blonde hair combine to the despair of the coeds' olfactory nerves and their cardiac muscles. Directing a department with which each student must have at least two years of speaking and writing acquaintance with the mother tongue, and a nod to chrestomathy, a hint of dialectics, and a brush with the humanities, "Dick" and his associates are building a greater MTSC through the development of appreciation of the powers of the spoken and written word.

"Freshman tests," administered as a part of the orientation program for all new students.

Future success in the forum, the classroom and the author's pen rests in the capable hands of this corps of scholars and teachers. Seated around the tables in the conference room are Biffle Moore, Dr. Eugene Wiggins, Edwin Howard, Dr. Richard Peck, Dr. Virginia Peck, Dr. Emily Calcott, Miss Elizabeth Schardt, S. Carroll Evins, Dr. Guy A. Battle, and Lane Boutwell.

MATHEMATICS

"Mathematics Makes Men Subtile"

Witty and human, Horace Jones epitomizes what until a decade ago was almost a vanishing American—a mathematician who insisted on the universal need of practical training in this basic science. A former athletic chairman as well as head of the math department, Mr. Jones has an ingrained love for the college that was first reflected in the devotion of his illustrious father—the first president of MTSC.

The phenomenal growth in the technical aspects of the science of war and the arts of peace has centered the attention of both men and women on the importance of math and physics in recent years. This has been reflected in the increased number of math majors moving from MTSC to leadership in engineering and the armed forces.

MUSIC

"The Southern Stars a Music Pealed"

Elevated to full departmental status this year, the music department, under direction of Neil Wright, adds to the perceptive appreciation of the aesthetic while enjoying the pure recreation possible in music. Neil is an accomplished vocalist, a talented band director, and teacher of rare ability. Under his supervision the class work, the concert tours, and the entertainment programs of the music department contribute to the prestige of the college.

There are many small ensembles in addition to the band, chorus, harp singers, orchestra and other major music organizations on the campus. Here a group of students and faculty members join in informal harmony session with the strings.

Co-operating to get and keep the show on the road, this group of teachers are masters of individual instruction or group direction. Seated, left to right, Mrs. James Gilbert, piano; Miss E. May Saunders, public school music; Margaret Wright, organ and marimba; Mrs. John Scott, piano; Rubye Taylor Sanders, stringed instruments. Standing left to right, Dr. Kenneth Pace, band instruments; Neil Wright, voice and band; Dr. Phillip Howard, piano; Charles Hansford.

SCIENCE

"Books Must Follow Sciences, And Not Science Books"

Dr. Eldred Wiser, whose admiration for a good walking or gaited horse is second only to his farming interests, is head of the science department and counselor for pre-medical students. His interests and training make him especially valuable as a leader for students in our area and as a teacher of chemistry.

With many MTSC science-mathematics majors going to Redstone, AEDC, or Oak Ridge, it is logical that the physics division has taken on added popularity in recent years. Here students get a preliminary acquaintance with one of the gadgets that intrigue those electronically minded.

The tremendous growth of the pre-professional courses and general interest in science has brought a continued growth in number and knowledge of the science department staff. Left to right, Dr. Fred Emerson, Dr. Walter Herndon, Dr. Eldred Wiser, James W. Gilbert, Dr. Exum Watts, Dr. Ellis Rucker, Dr. John Patten, and Dr. H. R. DeSelm.

SOCIAL STUDIES

"Histories Make Men Wise"

Dr. Norman Parks, head of the social science department at MTSC, is a man who has received recognition as college dean, teacher, and newspaper editor. When Dr. C. C. Sims asked for relief last year after 30 years service in building the department, the administration brought in Dr. Parks. In his brief tenure here, he has continued the sound work of his predecessor and is now engaged in broadening the offerings in social studies.

Social studies cover a wide field of practical problems. Here a group of in-service teachers may meet on the campus to pool their thinking. Many groups, ranging from Volunteer Girls' State to the annual fire school, use the facilities and personnel of the Social Studies department—another example of the college's integration with the area.

Seated at the conference table in the social studies reading room are members of the college's largest department. Left to right, Clayton L. James, sociology; Roscoe Strickland, history; Dr. Newell Moore, history; Dr. Robert Martin, economics; Dr. Edwin Baldwin, geography; Gene H. Sloan, journalism; Dr. Robert Corlew, history; Miss Ollie Green, geography; and Dr. Norman Parks, government. Dr. C. C. Sims, government; Billy Mac Jones, history; and Firman Cunningham, economics; are other members of the department staff. They are pictured below.

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

"He Serves Me Most Who Serves His Country Best"

Major Crawford Keith, PMS & T at Middle Tennessee State College, is a combat veteran of World War II and the Korean action. Hard working and popular, the Major is now in his second year of his local tour as co-ordinator and commandant of the MTSC Branch General unit of the ROTC.

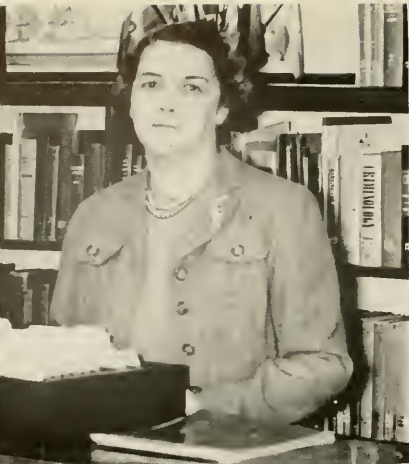

"Summer Camp" ROTC field training is a junior's preview of his future on active duty and as a reservist. Here are three members of the 1955 class of second lieutenants demonstrating their effectiveness with the mortar.

LIBRARY SERVICES

"A Good Book Is The Best Of Friends"

Miss Catherine Clark, director of the library, whose winning smile and sunny disposition can perhaps be best described by the co-eds favorite expression—"sweet." Her charm reflects the traditional Southern culture and her co-operation with students in seeking a difficult assignment invites one to seek library service.

Until the growth of the Library Science division necessitated removal to the ground floor of Monohan Hall, the regional library serving this area of the State had headquarters in the southeast wing of the library building basement. Here Maureen Williams, an MTSC alumna who heads this region, and Mrs. Hoyte Stewart are busily at work keeping the records straight for more than 100 field books stations served by this library. Two bookmobiles, supervised by Richard Tritch, work out of the MTSC regional library.

Physical center of the campus quadrangle as well as the "filter center" of information is the library. In this mental gymnasium the ganglions are agitated and the cerebrum stimulated to display the bravura that is usually associated with college life. The agitators and the stimulators are cataloged, distributed and refurbished by this trio of librarians who in turn supervise a score of student assistants who operate the library. Left to right, Miss Elizabeth Wilkinson, Ambrose Easterly and Miss Catherine Clark.

TRAINING SCHOOL

"Train Up A Child In The Way He Should Go . . ."

Hilary Parker heads up the elementary "practice teacher" program in addition to managing the MTSC Training School where a select group of students are taught. He also assists J. H. Swann, supervisor of secondary practice teachers, in the program that is carried on at Central High School.

One of the many activities of the Training School is the snappy marching band, under direction of Kenneth Pace of the college music staff. The band participates in many college activities, including the home coming program.

This corps of teachers, possessing exceptionally high training, teach the students at the Training School, and dig deep into their rich experience as teachers to advise and direct prospective teachers who spend a quarter in actual class room experience. Left to right, Mrs. Maxine Manley, Mrs. Andrina Briney, Mary Frances Snell, Mrs. Madge Manson, Marguerite Harrison, Mary Bell Jordan, Ann Ashley, Leneil Edwards, and Hilary Parker, principal. Miss Margaret Lowe was not present at the time the picture was made. Kenneth Pace, Bobby Hardison, R. T. Carrick, and Seth Brown are other members of the faculty who supervise special programs.

Work

Every day many hundreds of man-hours are expended on scores of campus activities. But no matter what they do—it seems most students in activities feel they often learn more outside of the classroom than they do inside it. These students invariably will go without sleep or food to build floats, sketch posters, plan parties or perform any of a multitude of tasks. Yes, students work at MTSC.

THE MIDLANDER STAFF

AFTER SEVEN LONG MONTHS AND A PACKAGE OF PROOFS, NUMBNESS AND TEARS

The dummy was resting unevenly, half on the table, half on the mass of copy. The editor and assistant editor, heads close together, studied the final proofs of the 1955 MIDLANDER. The annual was definitely in its last stages. It had been a long time since the first meeting of the annual staff. It seemed even longer before the publication would be given to the students. A questioning look passed between the two editors. Was this worth all the late hours, tired shoulders, and hours of anxiety? They didn't know—they just felt numb—numb because they were exhausted, but they were through.

Another MTSC project had been completed! The 1955 MIDLANDER—in their estimation, the best ever.

Recording the school's activities means tired shoulders for the weary.

The publications office in the basement of the administration building was a chaos. It was time for the SIDELINES to go to press. The copy wasn't ready, the editorial page lacked completion—all over the room little bits of paper eventually to become the bi-weekly newspaper could be found.

In the middle of the chaos stood the editors—would they make it they wondered. Yes, actually they had doubts as to whether the potential issue of the publication would be delivered to the students.

But, as always, they made it! Thus the SIDELINES staff once again presented the MTSC students with a good cross-section of actual campus and state collegiate news, campus society, modified gossip, student opinions, collegiate jokes, alumni happenings and an inexhaustible sports page.

Sports Staff: James Bagwell, Don Whitfield, Sports Editor.

BUCHANAN PLAYERS

Slowly the house lights dimmed and the mood music swelled with great emotion. In the minds of us all, there were varied thoughts concerning our responsibilities. "Flip the switch 13 seconds after the third entrance;" "Add an extra tea cup on set for Act III;" "Does the coat look too wrinkled?;" "What's that line after the laughing scene—oh gosh!"

All this confusion is soon straightened out by Biffie Moore who upon his arrival at MTSC has produced enjoyable and well-acted plays for the audience.

First in the Fall Quarter he presented ANGEL STREET. Then he followed this success with three one-act plays in the Winter Quarter—BOX AND COX, OVERTONES, and THE TWELVE POUND LOOK. To complete his year of fine entertainment, the Spring Quarter productions included THE BARTERED BRIDE, an opera jointly produced with the music department, and GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE. The Buchanan Players also gave a volunteer program for the Faculty Dames Club. Mr. Moore seemed so calm and confident, when we knew inside he was more concerned with our performances than we were—this was the last night.

It is three hours later and the music is blaring like mad—another famous cast and crew party to commemorate the successful run. What fun we've had—such are the Buchanan Players at MTSC.

TAU OMICRON

"Strive to build rather than destroy—to help rather than hinder."

Tau Omicron, the honorary society for women, was organized in 1930 for recognition of the most outstanding junior and senior girls. They are chosen for their scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

Three meetings are held each quarter. Every year the old members are invited back for the annual luncheon. Another annual affair of the club is the commencement breakfast for all the members.

The organization's alumnae sponsor a scholarship fund which is available to Tau Omicron seniors or other worthy girls.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

The Lambda Gamma Cast of Alpha Psi Omega, National Dramatic Fraternity, stimulates interest in dramatics and secures for the college the benefits and privileges of a national honorary fraternity.

Membership in this fraternity may be gained by earning one hundred points in the various fields involved in play production, direction, and acting.

The organization has a social gathering to which members and their guests are invited at the end of the school year.

PI OMEGA PI

Young in existence on this campus is the National Honorary Business Fraternity, Pi Omega Pi. Only organized since April, 1954, this club offers membership to those who have attained certain requirements in the field of business. To have eligibility for initiation into Pi Omega Pi, a student must maintain a "B" average in business subjects and hold an average of a "C" in other studies. Objectives of this fraternity are the promotion of better business relationships, the development of a deeper understanding of opportunities in the field for majors and minors, and discussion of current problems and modern methods of study.

W. A. A.

"A hike out to Kingwood Heights?" "Sounds wonderful!" Hikes, sporting games, and weiner roasts galore are a few of the activities which the W.A.A. holds each year. Organized for the purpose of promoting good sportsmanship, a spirit of cooperation, and strengthening the bonds of fellowship, this club offers membership to any girl interested in athletics.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Future Teachers of America is primarily an organization for those who expect to teach the present and future youth of our country.

The MTSC chapter holds membership with both the Tennessee Education Association and the National Education Association. Membership in the local FTA chapter includes receipt of publications from both organizations.

The club meets twice a month. Programs for this year have included a panel of former FTA members who are now in the teaching field, a discussion of the new reading center by James Martin, talks by Dr. Belt Keathley and James Swann, and a discussion led by the director of the Mental Health Department of Tennessee.

The most outstanding members are presented the NEA merit award, a service award given students who have contributed most to the club and themselves professionally.

An honor it is indeed to receive an invitation to membership in this honorary fraternity for music majors. Pi Mu Sigma is composed of a highly select group. Surpassing others in musical ability and topmost in excellence, these members hold a privileged status.

The objectives of Pi Mu Sigma are: To promote a high moral level among professional musicians in order to maintain and augment the dignity of the music profession; to promote a high degree of efficiency in musical ability among the members and, as a secondary effect, among all of the music students; to create an influence for musical excellence that will attract the better music students to our college; to create better understanding and social contact among the members.

MUSIC EDUCATOR'S NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Organized at the beginning of our 1954 school year, this music education group sponsors song fetes and all-sings. Special holiday entertainment is provided through this organization. This year, during Christmas holidays, the group sponsored a gathering of all MTSC students for the purpose of animating the festive spirit across the campus.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is an organization for those who are interested in knowing about and discussing current international affairs. The club meets twice a month.

This year the club has enjoyed programs of guest speakers, color slides of foreign countries, the debating team, and group discussions.

Our club was represented by Jesse Brawner at the national convention which was held this year at St. Louis.

The club presents annual awards to outstanding members. One major award goes to the senior social science major who ranks high in scholastic standing, leadership, citizenship, and promotion of social science as a course of study.

CHEMICAL ASSOCIATION

The MTSC Chemistry Club is an organization composed of chemistry majors and pre-professional students in the fields of pre-dentistry, pre-nursing, pre-medicine, pre-engineering, and pre-pharmacy.

The association has programs presented by members of the club and outstanding speakers in chemistry and related fields. Some of the activities of the club serve as supplement to the classwork of its members.

Not only is this a professional organization, but it gives the chemistry students an opportunity to be associated socially. One of the socials of the year was a weiner roast at Dr. Wiser's farm.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

MARIE SMITH
"Miss Home Economics"

"Some day I'll make some man a good wife—at least I'll know something about homemaking." Each girl who majors or minors in home economics is invited to join the Home Economics Club. The meetings are fun and always adjourn with an old fashioned hen party of gab about the latest campus news.

Mrs. Muncie and Miss Nelson are grand to work with and serve as good sponsors, chaperones and dishwashers!

In February the guests of the club were feted, tantalized, and filled to capacity with good old Italian "Southern style" spaghetti. This is just one of the many enjoyable as well as interesting activities of the club during a year at MTSC.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

A movie on raising Grand Champion cattle, knowledge of forage crops, the feeding and care of young chickens—all these are given attention and emphasis by Ag Club members. Problems of modern farm life are ironed out and discussed and practical demonstrations are observed which are beneficial to the young agriculturist. A deeper understanding of modern farming methods through research and study is an objective of this organization. Interesting and practical programs are planned quarterly by the members. Truly, the Ag Club is a vital correlative for those students who have chosen the field of Agriculture as a principal subject of study.

T CLUB

"Where in the world did he get a haircut like that?" remarked one co-ed to another as the boy passed with all his hair missing except for a T shaped area on the top of his head. A quick glance around the campus showed that he was not alone with his haircut. In the fall of the year the members of the T Club become barbers.

Any male who has lettered in football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, golf, track or tennis is eligible for membership in the T Club. This club joins together the males of the campus who are athletically inclined and participate in any of the college's varsity sports.

The "T" of Middle Tennessee State College is the only letter worn on the campus. Each year the T Club sponsors various activities among which are parties, hayrides, and dances. This year they completed a T Club Room which is located in the basement of the gym.

Spritely mermaids gliding swiftly through steel blue water, a high dive performed with skill and grace, an antic cut by a mischievous swimmer, what is this? No, we are not in the South Sea Islands, but we are witnessing a rehearsal of the annual aquacade given each year by the members of the MTSC Aquatic Club.

Rising with young vigor and strength, the newly organized Industrial Arts Fraternity takes its place of importance among the older organizations on MTSC campus. On April 2, 1955, Epsilon Pi Tau gave its opening banquet which was well attended by notables in the field of Industrial Arts.

VETERANS CLUB

Strength and action are distinguishing marks of the Veterans Club. A relatively young organization, this club gives ex-G.I.s an opportunity to discuss their current problems and new developments pertaining to the G.I. Bill. The activities of this club are not limited by strictly informative measures since "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." A leading part is played by veterans in campus activities and, in addition, social functions of jocund and mirthful nature are arranged by the club in order to promise a truly worthwhile membership.

CIRCLE "K"

The Circle "K" Club was organized on our campus in December of 1954. This young and growing club serves the college in the same respects that the Kiwanis Club serves the community. The objects of this club are to emphasize the democratic way of life, to promote good fellowship and high scholarship, and to develop a spirit of service for improvement of human relationships with God, country, community, and college.

OUR MAJORETTES

THE BAND

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock sweet musical sounds begin drifting from the Music Building. Sometimes there is a loud clash of cymbals and sometimes the deep rolling crescendo of the tympani.

The MTSC band can always be depended upon to provide entertainment whether on the football field, on the concert stage, or on the street in a parade. Their interpretation of Hallowe'en at the Florence State game was complete with the fire-baton twirler "witch" Martha Dickens. Their spring concert this year was one of the best yet. Not only does the band provide the college with entertainment, but it also gives several concerts throughout the communities of Middle Tennessee.

Director of the band this year has been Neil Wright. Margaret Johnson Wright coaches the majorettes and flag twirlers.

Under the direction of Rubye Taylor Sanders, the MTSC orchestra gives the college some of its finest programs of the year. Through training and much practice many who have never played string instruments before are ready to participate in the annual Christmas concert which is presented in Assembly. Another concert highlights the spring quarter.

WOMEN'S TRIO

This year in the Women's Trio members are: Laura Ann Harris, First Soprano; Joyce Kidwell, Second Soprano; and Norma Follis, Alto. The trio appears with the Sacred Harp Singers and are also guests at many civic club programs.

SACRED HARP SINGERS

Under the direction of Mrs. Neil Wright, the MTSC Sacred Harp Singers give splendid performances in early English Madrigals, Sacred Harp Hymns and white Spirituals, and Southern folk songs and ballads.

The group sings a cappella, seated around a table in sixteenth century madrigal style. Very well-known throughout the state, the Sacred Harp Singers tour Tennessee each spring.

SPEECH ARTS SOCIETY

Poise, confidence, and natural elegance are those attributes promoted by, and after hours of long drilling possessed by, those members of the Speech Arts Society. The chief objective of the organization is to analyze and investigate domestic and international affairs. During the fall and winter months, members prepare their cases, while the spring months are reserved for tours.

This year the society entered the Magnolia

Tournament at Mississippi State Teachers College for Women in Columbus, Mississippi. The group placed four superior ratings after entering into fields of debate, radio speaking, impromptu speaking, and poetry reading and as a team placed second among the colleges participating.

Entertainment for other clubs is an additional activity of the society. Their example debates offer a very interesting and educational program.

THE SAUNDERIAN SOCIETY

the members enjoy music appreciation programs. The group attends outstanding concerts in Nashville throughout the year.

STUDENT ORGAN GUILD

Soothing and dreamy strains of "A Fugue" by Bach drift out over the campus from a small room in the Music Building. The MTSC student Organ Guild group are gathered for an evening of listening attentively to recorded organ music.

This is what constitutes the purpose in meetings of students taking private organ. The guild members make numerous trips to Nashville during the school year to hear prominent organists.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

Friendliness and comradeship are welded through this organization of Presbyterian Church members. Religious guidance for students by weekly inspirational programs aids in the developing of a greater faith in the Christian belief. Song festivals, taffy pulls, and other social activities afford a means for a genuine understanding of the real interpretation of the word, fellowship.

"The promotion of Christian fellowship and the creation of a religious society on the campus among the Methodist students as well as other students" is the primary aim of the MSM. Christian experience, worship, and study is offered since the MSM gives students the opportunity to worship among themselves and with other local churches.

This group is affiliated with the Methodist Student Movement of the state. This year several of the members attended the state meeting at which they obtained suggestions for improving the organization.

ers and socials through out the year. Student participation is practiced through song services, prayer, and various programs.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN UNION

The combination of all religious groups on the campus into a union for fellowship is the immediate design of the SCU. The Union offers an opportunity to all students, regardless of faith, to worship God in one spirit.

Activities of this union are sponsoring noon-day devotions daily with students of different denominations participating and leading the services. Each spring, the SCU establishes Religious Emphasis Week which proves to be very effective and inspiring.

A firmer foundation of Christian faith is built by this unification of beliefs. Religious bias is dissolved among various church denominations by the Student Christian Union.

Named in honor of Tennessee's Confederate hero, Sam Davis, the drill team is now an integral part of the Cadet Battalion. The team marches at the half time of football games and in various parades. This year the Drill Team journeyed to Nashville where they performed in the Governor's Inaugural Parade. The team will compete in an intercollegiate match later this Spring.

Each year the cadets in each Company, the Band and Drill Team and the officers of the Battalion Staff select a co-ed from the campus to be their sponsor. The girls are selected on beauty and personality. They are dressed in blue and white uniforms and are commissioned as honorary cadet officers.

Both teams fire in intercollegiate matches against teams from other colleges both near and far. Twenty-two caliber rifles are used during the matches and National Rifle Association rules govern the competition.

TRACK AND SABRE CLUB

The Track and Sabre Club is one of the largest and most active clubs on the campus. It draws members from the entire cadet corps. The purpose of the club is to permit ROTC Cadets to join together in a closer union and fellowship, in as much as all are working toward the same goal, the gold bars of a 2nd Lieutenant.

The club has one social function each quarter. However, the Winter Quarter's function outshadows the other two, as it is during this quarter that the Track and Sabre Club presents the Military Ball. The Military Ball in recent years has brought such big name bands as Ray Anthony, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, and Billy May to the MTSC campus.

The Track and Sabre Club members are distinguished from the other cadets by their bright yellow shoulder tabs, worn by each member. The officers of the club are: Pres. John T. Hayes, Vice-Pres. George R. Stotser, Sec. Marion H. Collins, and Treas. Jimmy O. Cranford.

The Track and Sabre Club Presents
THE 1955 MILITARY BALL

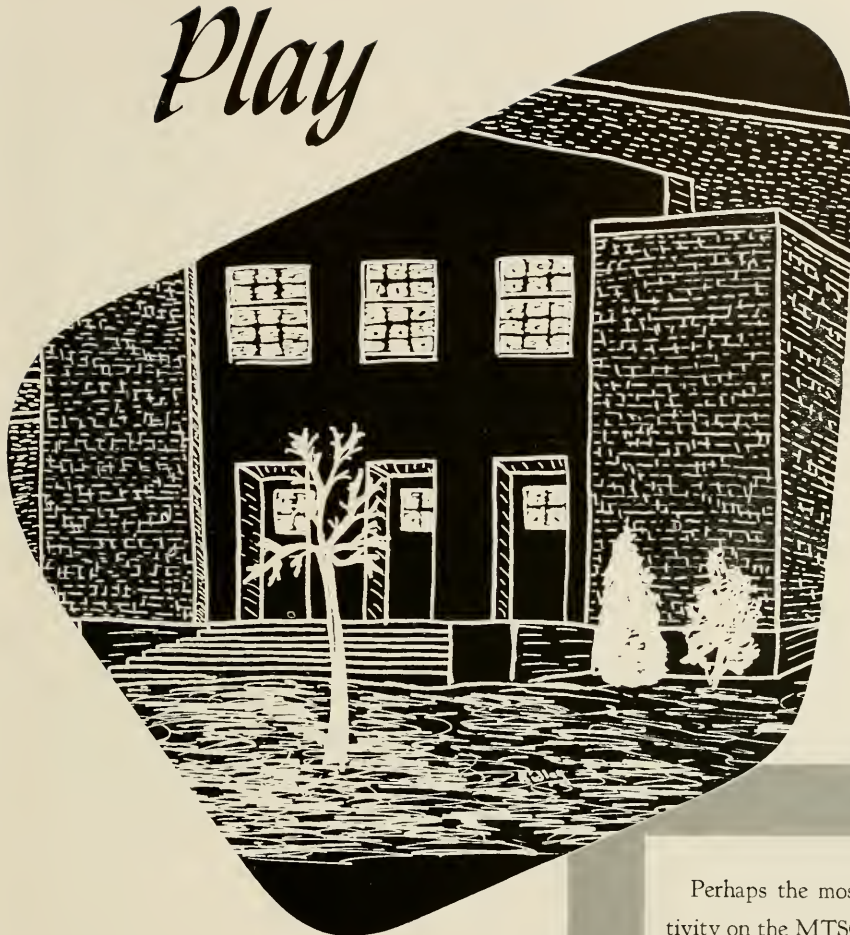

Each year the Track and Sabre Club sponsors the Military Ball. The Club brings to the MTSC Campus some of the top name bands in America; this year it was the Billy May Band. The Military Ball is now the biggest social event of the year at MTSC. The Military Ball Queen, shown above with Cadet Lt. Colonel John T. Hayes, is Miss Sally Elner of Nashville.

Play

Perhaps the most popular single activity on the MTSC campus is playing. Playing is a wonderful pastime. But whether it be a party or a football game, play time for the spectator means work time for the performer. However fortunate it may seem, most activities designed to please the spectator end up being as much fun for the laboring participant, and so it is at MTSC.

Raiders!!!

CHEERLEADERS are: Fay Pressnell, Burnice Hart, Katie Duncan, Liz Hay, Betty Waddell, Ray Adams, Elma Murdock, Juanita Prince and Don Jackson.

THE CHEERLEADERS

The 1954-55 Cheerleaders were led by Captain Don Jackson and Alternate Captain Fay Pressnell. The cheerleaders made all the football trips, and journeyed to the site of the O. V. C. Tournament in Louisville, with the Blue Raider cage team. In addition to leading the yells at all games and pep rallies, they also paint the village of Murfreesboro, with various shades of BLUE and WHITE, and decorate Jones Field before every home game. Lost to next year's squad are Seniors Liz Hay and Kathaleen Duncan. So for a job well done we pause to give three cheers for the 54-55 Cheerleaders.

This year's coaching staff with the loss of men such as Bobby Young and Howard Alsup from last years squad had a lot of building to do. They came through with flying colors. The coaches here at MTSC are not just football coaches but help every boy that comes under them, as well as the rest of the students, in the game of life.

SEWART AFB..... 0

The Blue Raiders started off the '54 season with a bang. The Raider defense held the Carriers scoreless. The offense sent Bobby Ray Smith, Rucker, Tribble, Cook, Frost, S a d d l e r, Blackwood and Whitt into the end zones and pay-dirt and added four extra points. The linemen opened holes for the Raider backs with the same skill they closed them for the Sewart backs.

EASTERN KY..... 26

In their first O.V.C. game of the 1954 season the Blue Raiders went down to the Eastern Kentucky Maroons 26-0. Eastern scored in the first quarter by driving 70 yards, 60 of which were covered on successive jaunts of 20 yards, executed by each of their Eastern backs. They returned after the half and added three more touchdowns, one on a 55 yard punt return. Eastern, as a result of other games like this, captured the O.V.C. title.

MTSC.....	6
WESTERN KT.....	7

The Blue Raiders in their second O. V. C. tilt drew blood midway of the second quarter when Gene Saddler pulled in a Jimmy Dunlap aerial on the eight yard line and went over standing up. The entire play covered twenty-eight yards. With one second to go on the clock, Western started its last play on the one yard line and ended up in the end zone. The extra point was added after the game was officially over, but it counted just the same.

DALLAS COOK, Back

MTSC.....	7
AUSTIN PEAY.....	7

The Governors from Austin Peay, even though underdogs went all out and drew first blood. The Raiders had to come from behind in the third quarter when "Hots" Reynolds sneaked across from the quarter-back position on the Austin Peay one yard line. Each team made eleven first downs. Austin Peay gained 224 yards and the Blue Raiders gained 223. Each team fumbled the ball five times.

MTSC.....20

MOREHEAD.....13

Clifton Tribble and Travis Akin went by ground and air respectively to score two touchdowns in the first half to give the Raiders a 14-0 lead at half time. Then a fumble and a pass interception netted the Eagles 13 points. Late in the fourth quarter the Raiders iced the victory with another touchdown by Tribble who went over from the five yard line. The Raiders posted their first O. V. C. victory of the '54 season.

HOWARD HALEY, Tackle

GEORGE BROWN, Tackle

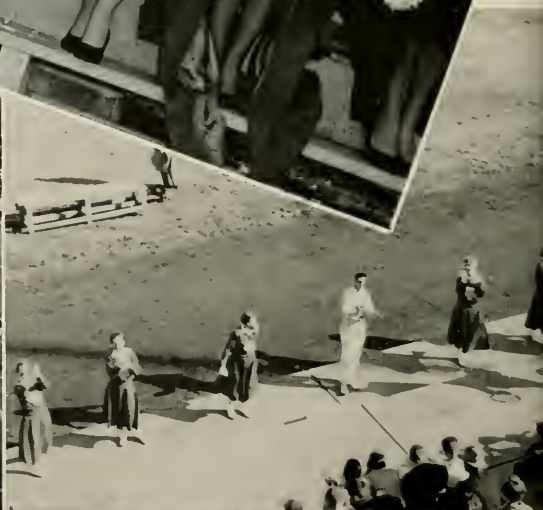

MTSC..... 7

MEMPHIS STATE..... 27

The Blue Raiders, at the expense of the highly favored Memphis State Tigers, left the field at the end of the first half with a 7-0 lead. Sid Corban, going over from the one, after fine running by Tribble and Ezell set up the score. The enraged Tigers came back the second half and scored twice in the third quarter and twice in the last quarter for the home town fans. The victory was hard earned as the Raiders battled right down to the final whistle.

HOMECOMING

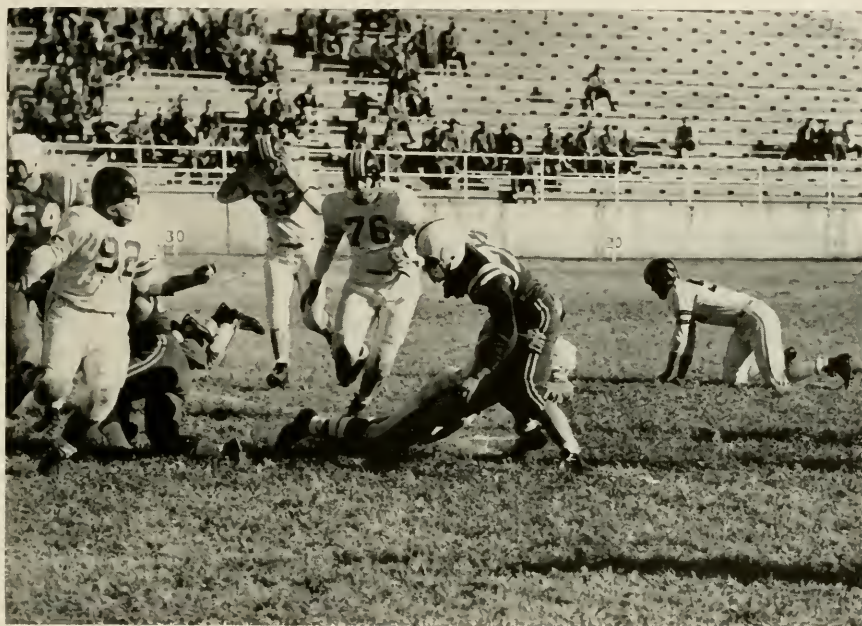

HOMECOMING

MURRAY STATE.....13

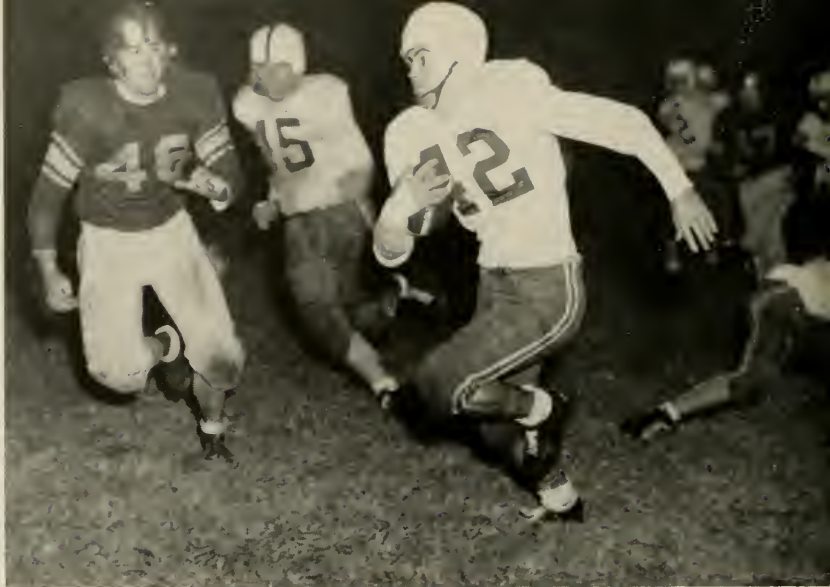

Those who got away from the hustle and bustle of homecoming long enough to see the game saw a great one, from all views except Murray's. Garner Ezell went over from the one yard line and later caught a 10 yard pass for two touchdowns. "Hots" Reynolds added the other touchdown. George Haley had a perfect day with his points after the touchdowns. The game was hard fought and no one breathed freely or relaxed until the final whistle blew. The Thoroughbreds from Kentucky never gave up.

MTSC.....27

FLORENCE STATE....26

Sid Corban scored twice with Clifton Tribble and Garner Ezell each adding another, to pace the Raiders in an upset win over the highly favored Florence State Lions. The Raiders led 20 to 6 at halftime. Corban's ball handling and punting kept the Lions away from the Raiders' goal more than once during the second half. The Raider line played much of the time in the Lion backfield. The result was the upset.

BOBBY OSTEEN, Guard

BOBBY RAY SMITH, End

MTSC..... 6

EAST TENN. STATE...30

The East Tennessee Buccaneers could do nothing wrong before their home crowd at Johnson City, and left the Raiders behind 24-0 at halftime. The lone Raider score came at the end of a 55 yard drive ending with a 32 yard pass from Sid Corban to end Charlie Smith. A number of Raider rooters made the trip to the corner of Tennessee to see the game.

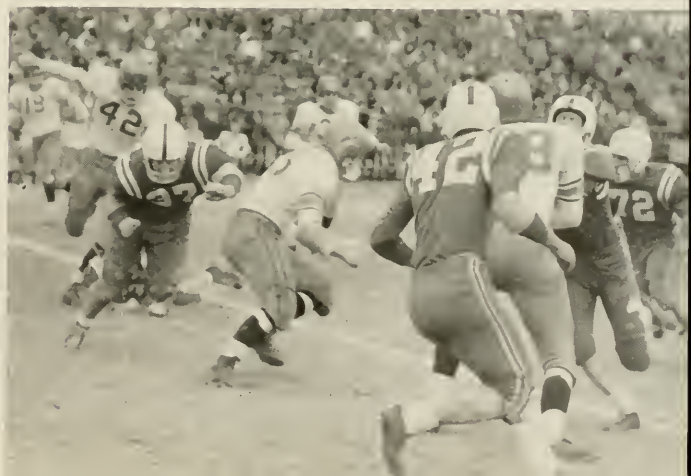

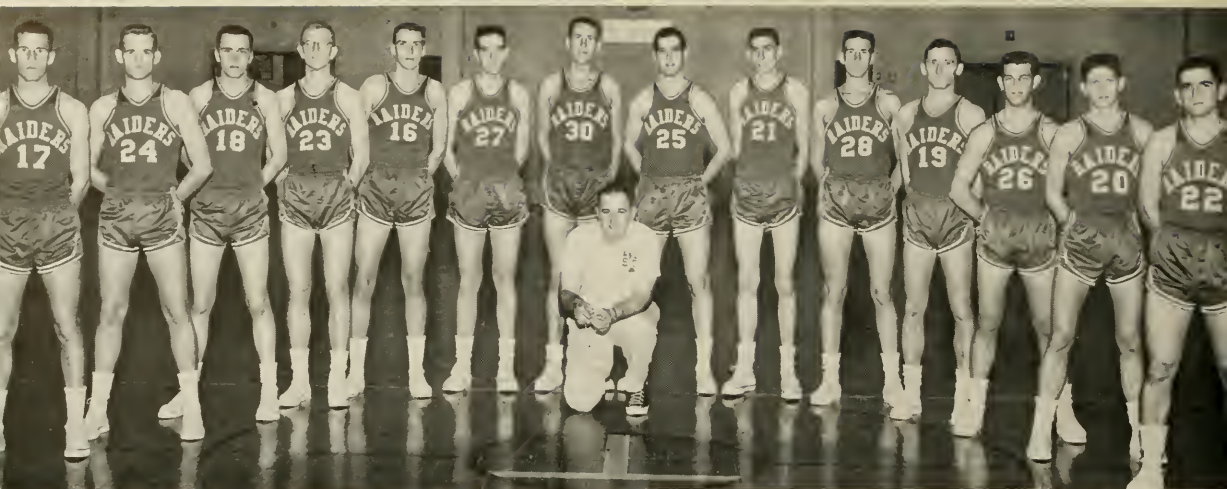

MTSC..... 7

TENNESSEE TECH 7

The favored Tech Eagles saved their tail feathers from complete destruction with the aid of a 34-yard run by a substitute quarterback and a penalty that erased a Raider touchdown pass. The Raiders, after the Tech score, went into the air and on a perfectly thrown and perfectly caught pass by Sid Corban and Travis Akin respectively knotted the score. The Raider seniors playing their last game for the blue and white all played hang up ball.

BASKETBALL

MTSC's 1954-55 hoopsters started the season off rather slowly but after once getting the feel of victory, the Big Blue cashed in on consecutive victories over Austin Peay State, Western Kentucky, and David Lipscomb College. The Raiders ended the season with a record of 11 wins and 16 losses.

The cagers of Coach Greer climaxed their season by winning the VSAC Tournament in Nashville. Victories over Lincoln Memorial University, Belmont College, and Bethel College crowned the Middle Tennesseans VSAC Champs of 1955.

Douglas Shrader was awarded the tournament's most valuable player award for his outstanding play. Along with Shrader, Tom Hogshead and Among other post season games, the Blue Raiders participated in the 27th district NAIA playoff which was held on the MTSC campus. Other participants were Belmont College, Bethel College, and Lincoln Memorial. MTSC was once again victorious and Kansas City bound. Playing in the NAIA for the first time in the history of the school, the Raiders were put out in the opening round of play by Southeastern Oklahoma.

Seniors who ended their playing careers were Kenneth Trickey, Tom Hogshead, Sam Smith, Doris Jones and Bob Ballew.

THIRD ROW (Left to right) Jim Ballard, Ralph Sellars, Lynn Banks, and Jim Satterfield.

The Blue Raider Baseball Team playing their toughest schedule to date emerged as Western division champs of both the VSAC and the OVC. The team won 9, lost 5, and believe it or not, tied one. The game with the University of Tennessee was called at the end of the 5th inning because of rain, with the score knotted at 4-4.

The big stick men for the Raiders were Bobby Osteen, Doug Shrader, and Gerald Johnson. The leading pitchers were Jim Ballard, Lynn Banks, Jim Satterfield, Ralph Sellars and J. C. Duncan. The co-captains of the team are Martin Garrett, second baseman and Ralph Sellars, pitcher.

The Golf team under the direction of Elbert Patty, enjoyed one of the best seasons of the links they have had in the past few years. The team led by Captain Allen Welch lost only two regular season matches, one to Western Kentucky and one to TPI. The linkmen closed out the season by taking third place in the O.V.C. Tournament.

TENNIS

The Raider net team won third place in the O.V.C. Tournament. Senior Gene Porter was the Captain of the Raider Tennis team. However, the most consistent player on the team was Charlie Duncan who won over 50 per cent of his games for the season. The Tennis team is coached by Coach Charles Murphy.

TRACK

The newest addition to the Blue Raider sports scene is the Track Team. The Track Team, under the direction of Coach Joe Black Hayes, will enter into both OVC and VSAC competition this season. The team has a tough job ahead of them in developing into a team that will challenge the track champs of either conference. They will be hindered somewhat by a very late start, as most OVC and VSAC teams start practice early in the winter quarters. The 1955 schedule is as follows:

BOYS' INTRAMURAL

The Boys' Intramural Program is under the direction of Coach Joe Black Hayes and student director Price Harrison. The males of the campus are divided into teams and these teams compete in the various team and individual sports.

Among the team sports are basketball, touch football, volleyball, softball, and tug of war. Individual sports include wrestling, tennis, golf, track, cross-country, swimming, badminton, and table tennis.

Favorite of the team sports is basketball. The basketball all-stars this year were Gene Parrish, Sid Corban, Bobby Ray Smith, Wilburn Kelly, Price Harrison, Don Plunk, Martin Garrett, Garner Ezell, Bobby Joe Smith and Milner Carden.

The favorite individual sport by far is wrestling. This year's champs were: 123 lbs. Don Jackson; 130 lbs. James Coats; 137 lbs. Price Harrison; 147 lbs. Buck Collins; 157 lbs. Bill Molloy; 167 lbs. Wilburn Kelly; 177 lbs. George Frost; heavyweight a draw between Bill Hix and Bobby Osteen.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

The Girls' Intramural program is conducted by the Women's Athletic Association under the direction of Miss Buleah Davis.

Any girl who wishes to participate may join a team according to her major field. Business, Education, Home Economics, Physical Education, and Science make up the intramural teams.

The girls play touch football and volleyball in the fall; basketball and badminton in the winter; and softball and tennis in the spring. Swimming and tumbling provide plenty of exercise for the girls throughout the year. Competition is always high as the various teams struggle for the intramural championship.

Where We Shop

The pet afternoon sport for the MTSC female and once-a-week chore for the male is a trip to downtown Murfreesboro for a lot of necessary and a few not-so-necessary items. No one can escape the delight of an occasional downtown local shopping jaunt.

And On to Graduation

. . . . Closing Thoughts

Yes, we made it. We finished four happy college years. Many times we wondered at our aspirations. We doubted our mentality. We could not foresee the day of graduation which was promised hope for the faithful and dutiful.

Now, we realize that it is finished —our college career is over. We turn our face toward the future, but as we put behind us another stepping stone, we look back—we glance once more at the campus that's been our home for the last four years. We bid our friends good-bye and as we go forth into the bright and glorious future we realize that we will never forget the marvelous and wonderful years at our own MTSC.

WE, THE 1955 MIDLANDER STAFF NOW LEAVE THIS BOOK WITH THE HAPPIEST OF MEMORIES.
